EIGHT HELD IN JULIAN COLLAPSE TRIAL PROBE

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

How come the annual election of Miss America didn't raise so much excitement this year? Few know that it is all over. Maybe it is because the styles have fixed things that girls parading in bathing suits aren't of any particular interest any more.

This political game is a wonderful thing. Now that it is getting around to the time to line up votes all kinds of crimes which those in power have countenanced in years gone by are coming to light. Well, even a good cleanup once every four years helps some.

We printed this in the news section yesterday morning, but in case any of you strong-armed better halves overlooked it here it is again. It carried a Louisville, Ky., dateline. "A good clubbing for husbands who come home intoxicated and are otherwise disorderly was prescribed by Judge Fred Starck in police court here."

We have a mixture of thoughts when we read that a "hard boiled" business man who didn't seem to care much how he got his dollars, wept when the name of his dead son was mentioned during a recent hearing.

And if we may ask, what has happened to our own little political party? Several weeks ago several candidates and would-be candidates stuck their heads up above the water but all we can find now are a few ripples.

If you haven't made plans for your week-end trip so far you might map one to the Saratoga blossom festival. According to all reports, the festival this year will be one of the best in history.

Of course there is no absolute way to prove it, but it looks to us as though one clique is giving way to the other in the Oakland situation. Just changing things around a little and things probably won't be much different.

Dog lovers in general breathed a sigh of relief when it was learned that "Tim," condemned to death for sheep killing, is free, aided perhaps by some small boy.

A man will always declare that the dog is the smartest creature and is man's best friend.

This, many declare, is due to the fact that a dog flatters a man's ego. After everyone seems to have lost confidence in one, and everything goes wrong, the dog looks into his master's face, saying mutely, "It's all right, buddy, I'll stick by you; I know you're good."

And straightway the man takes a new lease on life.

Spring has come! Tra la la! Through the open doors and windows of Richmond homes on these fine, warm days comes the drawl of the radio announcer, "Boone at bat—here it comes—it's one of those things—there it goes—"

STUDENTS TO TOUR ALL PORTS

What is believed to be the world's first school travel bureau, organized to foster foreign trade study in the schools and provide free tours for selected students, was organized last night at a dinner meeting of Richmond community leaders at the Hotel Carquinez.

The plan calls for setting up a complete foreign study course in the local schools, tours by students to the harbor where knowledge will be gained of the movement of cargo to all parts of the world, and selection of a certain number of students each year to make voyages to foreign ports without cost.

Without precedent. The project is believed to be without precedent in any other American city, and is designed with the object of having it spread to other parts of the world, with the hope that foreign cities may in time send students on return tours to this country.

It will be under the direction of the school officials, with the cooperation of the chamber of commerce, city officials and shipping interests. The trips awarded to students will be known as the Parr scholarships.

The scheme originated following a conference between Fred D. Parr and W. G. Planchard, president of the South African Dispatch line of steamers, who has agreed to be the first ship owner to offer free transportation to the students who are picked by the local committee.

Wilson Chairman. Aubrey Wilson, president of the High School Board, was named (Continued on Page 8)

3 HELD AFTER TRAIN CRASH

CHICAGO, March 19.—UP—Three workmen whose attempt to drag a load of sewer pipe across a railroad track caused a double train wreck with the loss of one life and the injury of 23 others, were arrested today.

A hauler between a tractor and a sledge loaded with the pipe snapped just as a Chicago and Northwestern train thundered up in the nearby village of Arlington Heights last night. A few minutes later another train crashed into the wreckage of the first. Engineer Carl Kutzner was killed when the boiler of his engine exploded. Several of the injured were hurt critically.

The pipe haulers, who attempted frantically to flag the train before it smashed into the stalled sledge, were Clarence Miller, Joseph Catalba and Manuel Machnich. They will be held for the inquest into Kutzner's death tomorrow.

YOUTH ELECTS RIFLE SQUAD FOR PENALTY

SALT LAKE CITY, March 19.—(UP)—A quiet youth who confessed to killing three people because he had had a quarrel with his wife, sat in his cell at the state prison tonight with thoughts of the future terminating May 17, the day on which he will face a firing squad to pay for his sudden burst of temper.

Delbert Green, 21, today was given the opportunity of choosing how he shall die. The range was narrow. He could be shot, or he could be hanged. He chose to die as criminals died when territorial law held sway in Utah—before the sound of men armed with rifles. The firing squad will be composed of five men, to be selected by Sheriff George Mahan of Davis county, where the crimes were committed. Before final selection, they must prove themselves expert marksmen.

Only one man in Utah prison records, has chosen the gallows. Green will die as his victims did—as the result of bullet.

DOCTOR DIES IN OLD FEUD

BETHANY, Mo., March 19.—(UP)—The second feud shooting to occur in Harrison county within the last three weeks occurred at Gilman City late today and resulted in the death of Dr. John Lindley, veterinary surgeon.

George Cramer, a farmer, was charged with the shooting. According to witnesses, Cramer shot the veterinarian when the two met on the main street of town. He surrendered to officers.

The shooting was reported to be the result of a feud that has existed between the two families for the last five years.

Ivan Bell, 10, 116 First street, escaped serious injuries when struck by a machine driven by William Willetts, 47 Park Place at the Santa Fe railroad crossing yesterday, according to police records.

500 VICTIMS OF POISON DRINK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 19.—(UP)—Liquor sold to laboring people for "two bits a throw," affected more than 500 persons in the southwest tonight with a mysterious malady which paralyzes the lower limbs of its victims.

The majority of victims blamed Uamala ginger for causing their illness, though a few declared they had been drinking "cheap rye and homebrew."

At Wichita, in south central Kansas, the malady had gripped more than 60 cases. The number included a woman past 70 years old who emphatically declared she had never taken a drink in her life. The number in Wichita has increased in the past 36 hours and late today city physician Russell Hobbs called upon the state health department for aid.

Physicians at Springfield, Mo., reported more than 30 cases there, the majority of those afflicted being workers in the railroad yards and shops. Many were reported dangerously ill.

In Oklahoma, where the malady was first discovered, more cases were reported. Reports from Pauls Valley and Newkirk, two widely separated cities, indicated that many were suffering in these cities. At El Reno and Blackwell, scattering cases were found.

A. KEYES NOW PRISON CLERK

SAN QUENTIN, March 19.—(UP)—After attaining high pinnacles of fame as a lawyer, only to become embroiled in the coils of the law that he was paid to uphold, Asa Keyes today began again as a clerk.

The former Los Angeles district attorney, convicted of having accepted bribes in connection with the Julian C. prosecution which he conducted, was given a position as clerk in the office of Yard Lieutenant H. E. Breakfield, at San Quentin.

The man who once swayed juries with his oratory, will now sit quietly by a small gridded window and will sort mail and packages addressed to the convicts from "outside."

His will be the task of opening letters and parcels from mothers, wives and children of the incarcerated men—some of them perhaps men that he himself helped place behind the bars—to see that no illicit weapons, tools, or "dope" is smuggled into "the big house."

Each morning a guard will walk beside Keyes when he goes from his cell in the old men's quarters to the little office where he is to work, in order to safeguard him from possible attack by prisoners seeking vengeance on their former Nemesis.

And for an indefinite period, bounded by the limits of his term of one to fourteen years, Asa Keyes will thus remain at his task—a prisoner among prisoners.

Brother Ordered To Pay $85 Bill By Judge Alstrom

As the result of a decision handed down by Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom, J. A. DeLong of Oakland must pay his brother, T. L. DeLong of Richmond, $85 alleged to be due for a board bill.

T. L. DeLong recently sued his brother for $255, but testimony showed that the plaintiff had once offered to accept the lower amount. Judge Alstrom recently had granted T. L. DeLong judgment for the entire sum but J. A. DeLong succeeded in having a writ of prohibition against action on the judgment from the Alameda county superior court.

At the second trial of the suit, Judge Alstrom heard the testimony of the two brothers. He then took the case under consideration and announced his decision yesterday.

OAKLAND, March 19.—No bids will be accepted by the city of Oakland from paving firms whose officials refused to testify before the Alameda county grand jury.

Mayor John L. Davie and Commissioner Frank Colbourn, who control the reorganized city council announced today.

Both Davie and Colbourn declared that they did not believe any contracting firm whose officials had refused to testify before the jury could be considered as a "responsible party."

This announcement was accepted as indication that the paving ring is ruled out of further participation in official business of the city.

Warren Landed

It was hailed as the crowning climax to the war waged by District Attorney Earl Warren to rid Oakland of graft and official corruption.

Since the appointment of Charles L. Anderson and Charles R. Fancher as new city commissioners, Mayor Davie and Colbourn are in actual control of the council. Anderson and Fancher succeeded Commissioners C. C. Young and Eugene K. Sturgis who resigned while the paving graft revelations were in progress.

It is expected that when the county grand jury resumes its session tomorrow morning at 9:30, it will act upon an "accusation" (Continued on Page 8)

A passerby saw the bank filled with smoke and turned in an alarm.

No damage was reported by bank officials.

Burglar Flees When Woman Enters Room

Richmond police last night were searching for a bold, burglar who is no respecter of persons.

Boldly entering an apartment building at Sixteenth street last night, the burglar jimmied a door, entered an apartment and got $8.

The next apartment was occupied by Chief of Police and Mrs. Dan Cox. Whether by accident or design, he ignored this suite.

At the third apartment, however, the burglar jimmied the door and entered, only to find that the woman was in the room. He fled, and with him went the $8.

According to police reports the burglar jimmied the door on an apartment occupied by Mrs. C. H. Crampton, 205 Sixteenth street yesterday during her absence and ransacked the rooms. He is said to have stolen $8 in cash from a dresser drawer.

Mrs. H. B. Shedden, who lives in an apartment adjacent to Mrs. Crampton's reported that she heard someone enter her apartment at dinner time last night. She said that she went into the front room, to be confronted by a strange man who turned and fled.

Mrs. Shedden was able to furnish police with an accurate description of the man.

Automobile Deaths In Richmond On Decline

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Although automobile deaths in California increased 20 percent during the last year, Richmond showed a marked decrease in casualties, according to an announcement by the state department of public health today.

Automobile deaths in Richmond according to the announcement, amounted to only three during the year of 1929 as against 11 the year previous.

Contra Costa county also decreased in deaths, only 20 auto deaths being recorded in 1929 as against 28 in 1928.

The death total of the entire state for 1929 amounted to 2242, as compared with 1869 deaths in 1928.

According to this record, automobile accidents in the state during 1929 resulted in slightly more than one death to every 1000 automobiles registered.

The 1929 death total was segregated by health officials, showing that 2058 persons were killed in accidents involving only automobiles, 125 lost their lives through automobile-train crashes, and 60 deaths resulted from street car and auto collisions.

Fines totaling $360 were collected in the court of Police Judge J. F. Plank in El Cerrito last night, when a number of motorists appeared on charges of violating state and city motor vehicle laws.

Pilot Killed In Seaplane Crash

EVERETT, Wash., March 19.—UP—Ralph Parr, 24, Seattle, was killed today when a small seaplane in which he was riding fell from an altitude of 1000 feet into Lake Goodwin, about 18 miles from here.

Parr had just finished overhauling the plane and was on a test flight when the crash occurred. The motor apparently failed and the plane dived headlong into the lake. He was alone in the plane.

The plane, which was painted a light blue color, was submerged with the exception of one wing tip. Parr's body had not been recovered up to a late hour today.

Joe Close, special prohibition agent, and A. B. Haner, agent of the treasury department, arrived at the scene later and started an investigation of the crash.

Parr purchased the plane two weeks ago along with Everett Johnson. The latter saw Parr take off on the flight.

FLIVVER PLANE PASSES TESTS

STINSON BEACH, March 19.—UP—A light "flivver" monoplane, with a cruising speed of 75 miles per hour and a landing speed of only 20 miles, was demonstrated today by its inventor, Jacob B. Sellmer, local upholsterer.

Sellmer invented the plane for his own use and enjoyment, although he stated that he thought the plane could be produced and marketed on a large scale for less than $1250.

The plane had the advantage of folding wings, so that it may be stored easily in a standard size one-car garage when not in use.

The plane has an eight horsepower motor and weighs only 520 pounds.

This "flivver" is the second plane that the inventor has constructed, the first, a biplane, being used by his son, Walter, March county fish and game warden, for the discovery of illicit hunting parties.

Rail Crossing Stop Law To Be Enforced

If the wig wag is working or a flagman is standing in the street when you approach a railroad crossing in Richmond, you had better bring your automobile to a stop.

Motor Vehicle act, as adopted recently, you are required to stop at all railroad crossings where a mechanical flagman is in operation or if a human flagman is standing at the intersection. Then if it is safe to go on you may proceed.

Chief of Police Dan Cox yesterday issued a warning to all Richmond motorists that the new law will be strictly enforced.

Better be safe than sorry, for if the train happens to miss you, a policeman is certain to get you. The strict enforcement of this law is part of a campaign for safe driving, according to Chief Cox.

Tariff On Oil Defeated By Congress Vote

WASHINGTON, March 19.—UP—A $1 a barrel tariff on oil was defeated by the senate tonight at the climax of a day of hot arguments over vote-trading and the right of senate committees to receive witnesses.

The proposal, which also included a 50 percent ad valorem tax on imported oil products, was offered by Senator Thomas, Dem. Okla., for the second time, the same tariff bill amendment having been defeated last month.

The vote was 29 to 38. On the previous vote, the oil tariff got 27 votes.

Opponents of the Thomas amendment estimated that the increase in price of gasoline and other products would result in an increased annual cost to American consumers of more than $900,000,000.

Eight democrats and 21 republicans supported it, and 20 democrats and 18 republicans opposed it.

Those who voted for it were: Democrats—Bratton, Eroussard, Connolly, Kendrick, Pittman, Shephard, Ransell, and Thomas of Okla.

Republicans—Allen, Baird, Capper, Fess, Coff, Goldsborough, Hatfield, Hastings, Johnson, Jones, McCulloch, Moses, Oddie, Phipps, Pine, Robison, Shortridge, Steiwer, and Waterman.

Disposition of this leaves only a minority of the major tariff items to be disposed of before the senate passes the bill. Passage late this week is probable.

The vote-trading charges brought a tense situation when the grizzled warrior Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, charged to their friends that the two Oklahoma senators bartered their votes on sugar in return for votes on their $1 a barrel oil tariff plan. Evidence before the lobby committee showed this plainly, he said.

Both Oklahoma senators denied the charge, as did the two senators from Colorado, a sugar state.

The senate ostensibly discussed the Thomas oil tariff plan, but really conducted a pitched battle on two fronts, on the subject of trading and the right of senate committees to harass witnesses as the lobby committee has been charged with doing.

Thomas and Senator Robinson, Indiana, the latter the only regular republican on the lobby committee, denounced the committee's tactics, and drew hot retorts from Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee, Walsh, and Blaine, Repn. Wis.

Son Of Famous Diva Granted Suspended Term

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—UP—Capt. Henry Schumann Heink, son of the famous singer, was given an opportunity today to repay some $65,000 lost in the crash of his brokerage house here, when a six months sentence for grand theft was suspended.

Schumann Heink was ordered under five years probation. Previously, Judge C. C. Haines had handed down the jail sentence and a two year probation term. A conviction for misuse of $3000 in securities held by the brokerage house had been returned.

In reversing the sentence, the court heeded the plea of Schumann Heink that if he went to jail he would be unable to accept a $20,000 a year position in Los Angeles offered to him by the Literary Guild.

He promised to pay back $45,000 lost by stockholders in his defunct brokerage house and $21,000 due customers.

His mother, Madame Ernestine Schumann Heink, added her plea, pointing to his war record and saying "He is one of my best boys."

British Ship Seized By U. S. In Damage Suit

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Mar. 19.—UP—The British freighter Capilano carrying a cargo of 10,000 tons of wheat and considerable lumber, was held here today by United States authorities following her seizure by a deputy marshal in the Straits of Juan De Fuca.

The order in admiralty for the seizure resulted from a suit over the loss of the freighter Chief Maquilla of the Aleutian islands, December 1, 1928.

Dant and Russell, Portland Ore. lumber shippers, attempted to collect $20,000 for loss of cargo on the Maquilla and the libel resulted.

The Capilano, which belongs to the Canadian American shipping company, was said to have been kept in Canadian waters by "her owners. Federal authorities, however, insisted she was seized in United States waters and that a careful check of her position was made to avoid international complication.

GARBO SCORES KNOCKOUT IN 'CHRISTIE'

Perhaps one of the most momentous screen occasions of the past few years will take place today at the Fox-California theater. Greta Garbo's first all-talking picture "Anna Christie," adapted from Eugene O'Neill's famous play is told from the screen.

That this gifted Swedish actress has drawn to herself a tremendous following intensely interested in her work was indicated by the hush which fell over the large audience as she spoke her first screen lines, "Gimme a whiskey—ginger ale on th' side—an' don't be stingy, baby!"

At first perusal of that sentence it seems hardly possible that Greta Garbo could have uttered it, at least not the Garbo that filmgoers have been accustomed to, a high-strung, tempestuous, society Garbo, a Garbo of adventure, a Garbo of affairs. Well, so far as "Anna Christie" is concerned we have a simple, awkward, unsophisticated Minnesota farm girl, dressed in the only sort of clothes a farm girl would know—a sweater, a tam-o-shanter—a slicker. With her hair combed in a faintly curling bob, her face seemingly without makeup, the new Garbo stumbles into a saloon on one of New York's old waterfront streets, looking for her father.

Also on the bill is a riotous comedy featuring Charlie Chase entitled "Great Gobs."

BRITISH, U. S. WORK ON NEW NAVY PACT

LONDON, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—British and American delegates jointly discussed the naval demands of all five powers today and asserted fresh determination to work out a five-year limitation treaty.

The conference still further endlocked over Italy's demand for parity with France, but the United States learned the British were working on a new formula aimed at bringing the two disagreeing powers together.

England's delegates are seeking to devise a cleverly-worded clause which will scrupulously avoid mentioning either that France admits parity with Italy or that Italy consents to French superiority.

Whether or not such a formula if found, would be acceptable to both France and Italy would be difficult to predict. However, persons who ought to know say that while the French are unwilling to "admit" Italian parity, they have never considered they had a right to "deny" such parity.

It is to harmonize these delicate differences that the British are striving to devise their careful formula, whether with or without American help is not known.

A British spokesman said the idea of a three-power pact between England, the United States and Japan was not discussed today, although he admitted it might be discussed later.

Denials came from both the American and British delegations earlier in the day of a report that Premier MacDonald had rebuked Henry L. Stimson on Monday for allegedly raising a false belief that Japan and the United States had reached an agreement. The report, printed in the Daily Express, was branded as absurd and without foundation by Stimson.

JAIL ESCAPE HELD IN EAST

MARTINEZ, March 19.—According to word received by Sheriff R. R. Veale, Roy Workman, 36 ex-convict and salesman who broke jail at Martinez in 1926 and who has twice escaped from officers since, is again under arrest in Columbia, Miss. Sheriff Veale is arranging for extradition and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Harrison is expected to leave for Columbia in a few days to return the prisoner.

When Workman escaped the first time he was serving a term in the county jail here on charges preferred by Vivian Jones, 15-year-old Richmond girl, who later committed suicide in Oakland.

According to police records, Workman had been made a trusty at the jail when he escaped only a few days before his term expired. He was arrested again in 1928 in Bisbee Ariz., and permitted to drive the car in which he and authorities were riding.

After driving the machine into a ditch, feigning injury and being confined to a hospital, Workman escaped by jumping from a window of the train on which he was riding.

Later in the same year he was re-arrested in Greenville Ky., extradited, and in company with Harrison started back to Martinez.

Enroute, Workman escaped once more by jumping from the window of the train on which he was riding.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

FIVE INJURED IN OIL BLAZE

PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—UP—Five men were burned severely and 36 members of the crew of a steamer were forced to jump overboard tonight when a blazing oil fire at a pier on the river front did damage estimated in excess of $200,000.

The fire started among 50,000 barrels of high test aviation oil, owned by the Gold Refining company, which were stored on a pier where the Schuykill and Delaware rivers join.

Several explosions of oil barrels scattered the flames and soon the entire pier, both dock and building, was burning fiercely. Five fire alarms were turned in and all available apparatus responded.

The S. S. Hagen was tied up to the pier and the heat soon became so intense that it was impossible to move it from the pier. The sailors aboard the Hagen jumped into the river, and were picked up by other craft. Of those reported injured four were firemen and one an employee at the pier.

Auto Maker Named In Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Totaling approximately $180,000, two suits were filed in the United States district court today against the Ford Motor company.

The suits are the aftermath of an automobile accident near Clayton, Contra Costa county last May 21, when G. V. Harriman, investor and his wife, Mrs. Frances Harriman, were seriously injured. Harriman's suit was filed through a guardian, Clement H. Miller of Oakland as his reason was lost as a result of the accident. It was alleged.

In the first suit, which named Harriman as the plaintiff, $76,257 are asked for injuries sustained when a front wheel of his car collapsed. The second suit asks for $102,878. Harriman and his wife charging that the car was "precariously and recklessly constructed."

Senate Votes Silver Duty

WASHINGTON, March 19.—UP—The senate voted a 30 cent an ounce tariff duty on silver tonight. Some senators including the new arrival stand and supported the duty, explaining they did so because Great Britain's attempt to "force the gold standard" on India was resulting in a dumping of Indian silver on all the other markets of the world.

The vote was 55 to 12, compared with a 32 to 36 vote by which the senate previously refused to take silver off the free list. The house bill left silver duty-free and the ultimate fate of the duty will be decided in conference.

Defense Rests In Trial Of L. A. Oil Man

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—The speed with which the Doherty bribery trial has been moving slackened today as attorneys wrangled over the matter to be contained in the judge's charges to the jury. Closing arguments were delayed until tomorrow with the prospect that the jury would not commence its deliberations until Friday.

The defense rested its case today with another series of character witnesses and then Frank J. Hogan, the brilliant chief of Edward L. Doherty's staff of trial counsel began a dogged fight in his client's behalf.

First Hogan moved for a direct verdict of acquittal arguing that charges in the indictment that Doherty gave Albert B. Fall a bribe of $100,000 to influence the official action of Fall as secretary of the interior in the handling of oil leases, had not been supported in evidence.

As the first sun's rays shine over the tops of the Wasatch mountains, May 17, he will be led from the death cell to a small courtyard. A small group of men, armed with rifles, will be standing behind a thin partition, their gun barrels protruding through apertures.

The youth will be blindfolded. A small target will be fastened over his heart, and the squad will be given the order to fire.

Rifles will crack, and bullets from some of them will enter the heart of Green. Members of the firing squad will not know whose bullets were responsible—some of the guns will be loaded with blank cartridges.

The youth killed his wife, her mother and her stepfather, who was also his uncle, and said he intended to commit suicide, but when he pressed the gun to his head the hammer fell on an empty shell.

Hopes that he would escape the fate of his victims were crushed today when Judge Eugene E. Pratt, in district court at Farmington, refused a motion for a new trial and formally sentenced Green to death.

Chicago Mart To Extend Ticker Service To Coast

CHICAGO, March 19.—UP—The Chicago stock exchange announced plans today for extending its quotation ticker service to the Rocky mountain region and to the Pacific coast.

The cities to be added to the ticker circuits within the next 60 days will include Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle and intermediate and nearby cities, officers of the exchange said.

The development will give the exchange a continuous quotation wire service operating east to the Atlantic seaboard, and west to the Pacific coast.

Judge Studies Actress Suit After Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—The actress who once held attention of theater goers with her deep-throated exclamation, "I'm Tondeleyo," completed presentation of evidence in her $100,000 damage suit against Richard Tucker, motion picture star, here today.

Edith Ransome, leading lady of "White Cargo," acting as her own attorney, was advised by Judge Michael J. Roche that she might learn the action of her action by Friday. The judge took the matter under advisement.

Mrs. Ransome won her first real legal victory shortly before the trial ended. Judge Roche denied, for the present, a motion by Tucker's attorneys for non-suit.

As a final gesture in her effort to prove that she was damaged by being forcibly ejected from a downtown theater here five years ago and by being tossed to the stage floor by Tucker in a manner that was harder than the part played for Miss Ransome called Sydney Goldtree, San Francisco producer.

Goldtree testified that he turned down an application by Miss Ransome to take part in one of his plays last fall because of the "unpleasant publicity" she received at the time she was playing the part of Tondeleyo here. The actress charged that Tucker was partially responsible for this "unfavorable publicity" and has also filed a $150,000 suit against Actors Equity association.

Kansas Governor Visiting Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz., Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—Clyde M. Reed, governor of Kansas, has arrived in Phoenix for an indefinite stay. He declares he will study the agricultural situation in this region in an unofficial capacity. Reed is accompanied by Fred C. Trigg, Kansas newspaperman.

Members of the Richmond Union high school Girls' Physiology club will visit San Quentin prison Saturday. The trip was originally scheduled for last Saturday.

The trip will be made under the direction of Mrs. Marion Poage, and Mrs. Allen Bronson. The girls will leave Richmond at 8:30 o'clock.

MURDER HINT IN TOT DEATH

UKIAH, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—It had been definitely ascertained today that the small child whose bones were found in a rotting coffin on Sunday night by a city employee digging at a creekbed, was the victim of murder, but authorities were no nearer a solution of the crime, nor had they discovered a clue to its identity.

The fact that the body appeared to have been dismembered and that the coffin—a rude, hastily improvised redwood box—was too small to have been the coffin used in a legitimate burial, pointed to foul play.

Dr. L. K. Allen had intended to determine the race of the child, thought to be Indian from the skull, but the skull was not found when the coffin's gruesome contents were examined.

Whether it was pitched into the creek by an inadvertent blow of the workman's pick when he unearthed the box, or whether it had been purposely severed from the body at the time of the crime, was unknown.

Wets Hissed At Dry Hearing In Washington

WASHINGTON, Mar. 19.—(U.P.)—Hisses, cheers, and a woman's shrill voice calling "that's a lie" failed to disturb the House judiciary committee today as the dry witnesses led by Horace P. Taft, brother of the late Chief Justice, and Josephus Daniels, former navy secretary, bespoke the moral benefit of prohibition and the evils of the liquor traffic in the old days.

The hisses from the large and matronly audience were directed at wet committee members who cross examined the dry witnesses. The passing of the lie came when one of these same wets inferred that death from alcoholism indicated the people were not accepting prohibition.

The cheers swelled at the striking point for prohibition made by Taft and Daniels.

Taft came to deny the testimony of the wets that his brother, a former president and chief justice, was on the side of the wets against prohibition.

Daniels declared the prohibition he put upon the navy by order before the war was 100 per cent effective. He saw but one alternative to national prohibition and that is a return to the old saloon with its heartbreaks and its products of drunkenness and poverty.

Cruiser Shoots Plane; 1 Dead

HOBART, Tasmania, March 19.—UP—British naval gunners brought down one of their own seaplanes in target practice in Norfolk bay today, causing the death of one man and injury to two others.

The plane was poised 1000 feet above the warships when an 8-inch shell exploded beneath it. The concussion caused such extensive airpockets that the seaplane went into a tail dive, hitting the water, breaking its back, and rebounding 40 feet.

Wireless Operator MacGowan was drowned. Lieutenant Elliott, and Flying Officer Grant were rescued by boats from the battleships but were injured severely.

The Bureau of Engineering of the U. S. Navy department recently reported that short-wave or high-frequency transmitting apparatus on warships and naval planes carrying explosives constituted a risk.

Admiral Charles P. Hughes, chief of naval operations, ordered "extraordinary safety precautions" and said no transmitters aboard ships should be operated on frequencies above 4000 kilocycles during target practice.

'49 CAMP WILL BE OPENED BY ODD FELLOWS TONIGHT

Richmond, particularly in the vicinity of the Odd Fellow hall, is assuming an aspect of the days of '49, as all preparations for the '49 camp of the Odd Fellow affiliations near completion.

Grizzled miners, faces covered with a stubble of several weeks growth of beard, have been seen clumping up and down the main streets of Richmond, attired in the mode of dress that was popular in the days of California's gold rush.

Members of the Richmond Rebekah lodge, although not as conspicuously dressed as their brothers, will be seen in the prevailing costumes of the gold period at the grand opening tonight.

The opening of the three-day celebration of the "days of '49" will be held tonight in the downstairs hall of the Odd Fellow building.

The ceremonies will be opened by a mammoth parade which will start at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue at 7:30.

The parade, according to announcements, will be a classic, winding its way through the center of town to Sixth street and Macdonald avenue and back to the "camp" where the celebration will be officially opened.

A special feature of the parade will be a covered wagon or 1849 vintage riding in it will be Mrs. Luella Whiting, a California pioneer and member of the Richmond Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. Whiting came across the plains in a covered wagon, while only a small child, and recalls many historic events of that period.

Whether or not Jack de Paeth, (he of the reddish brown beard) has been practicing on the ancient bicycle he is intending to ride in the parade, is not known, but from the appearance of the velocipede, it will take some "cowboy" to ride it.

The festivities in the Odd Fellow building will be opened with an old time dance by the '49ers, and free dancing and a program will be enjoyed during the evening.

The interior of the building has been decorated in keeping with the era the celebration is portraying, including an old time bar, and old time gambling facilities.

PRESIDENCY OF CHURCH GROUP DECLINED

P. L. Harlow, recently elected president of the Richmond Church Fellowship, has been forced to decline the honor, according to a letter received by C. C. Kratzer, past president of the organization.

The letter follows:

The Richmond Church Fellowship, Mr. C. C. Kratzer, past president, Tenth and Bissell Sts., Richmond.

Dear Mr. Kratzer:

It has come to my knowledge, that while absent from Richmond, I received the honor of being elected president of the Richmond Church Fellowship for the ensuing year.

I assure you that I am appreciative of the trust and confidence shown by this organization when electing me to the office of president, and consider it a distinction given only to those who understand the problems of our church people.

I regret that it is necessary to decline the honor, but circumstances concerning both my private affairs and my work at the Standard preclude the possibility of accepting.

I have sincere wishes for the success of the Church Fellowship, and hope that the organization will find a president for the new term who can follow the able and fine example you have personally shown in the past.

This letter is sent to you, knowing that you will deliver it to the proper authorities so that the necessary action can be taken at the next meeting of the Church Fellowship. I am also sending a copy of it to the Richmond daily papers, so that the publicity given the results of the recent election can be corrected.

Very truly yours,
P. L. HARLOW.

HIGH SCHOOL BS CROCKETT IN TIE GAME

The B diamond athletes of Richmond Union high school and the John Swett school of Crockett fought to a 3 to 3 tie last night on the local high school lot.

No scoring was done by either squad until the last half of the fifth, when Outman and Varcus, both of Richmond, followed each other across the home plate. Outman reached first on an error by Toscanick, Crockett chucker. Miller then sacrificed to right field, sending Outman to second. Marcus brought Outman home on a long drive to center territory. Weeks gained first on an error by Kelley, Crockett second baseman. Collins walked, Humphrey was also walked, bringing Marcus home. That was all of Richmond's scoring until the seventh.

The Crockett boys rallied in the first of the seventh canto to tie the locals. Erickson gained first on an error by Collins Richmond first batter. Owens also went to first on an error by Collins. Erickson and Owens were brought home on an overthrow to first by Miller, local receiver.

Richmond made its final score in the last half of the seventh period. Collins reached first on a hit into center field, and soon stole to second. He was brought home on a fast one far out in center field by Humphrey.

Crockett tied the local nine in the first of the eighth inning. Pen-tonello came home from second on an overthrow to first by Humphrey, shortstop.

In spite of determined last minute rallies on the part of both squads, there was no victory over which either school's sympathizers could rejoice.

Marcus hurled a fast brand of baseball for Richmond until the seventh period, when he was replaced by Coranzo, who held his own on the mound until the end of the contest.

It is expected that a contest will be scheduled later between the Richmond and Crockett teams to decide last night's tie.

The Richmond Union high school varsity nine will go into action against the Berkeley high school varsity Friday afternoon at the local high school. Friday's game will be a regular Alameda County Athletic league game. Richmond's varsity lost its first league contest to Centerville by a score of 11 to 7.

Marked Increase Of Wood Ducks Seen In State

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 19.—Complete protection afforded by state and federal statutes has resulted in the marked increase of wood duck in California, according to the announcement of the Division of Fish and Game of the Department of Natural Resources. During the past five years there has been a vast increase in the number of these birds, said to be the most beautiful species of duck in the world, in many parts of California.

Deputy C. O. Fisher of the fish and game body states that a flock of at least 5000 ducks of this species spent the fall months on Lake Almanor, in northern California, only leaving when the lake became covered over with ice at the time of the first freeze.

Another flock of ducks of this species wintered in the Butte Creek section, according to Deputy A. E. Miner of Grizzly. The estimated count of this flock numbered some 5000 birds. Deputy Victor E. VonArx reported to the Division of Fish and Game that several hundred wood ducks wintered in the Bodega Bay region.

A few years ago the wood duck population of the state had been so reduced in number that grave doubts were entertained that sufficient stock was still left to allow the birds to reproduce to anything like their former numbers. From the present indications it would seem that not only are the birds holding their own, but they are actually increasing rapidly in parts of their range. It is the endeavor of the Division of Fish and Game to bring the birds back to their former numbers throughout the state.

BANTAMS WILL BATTLE IN VALLEJO

VALLEJO, March 19.—Two of the fastest bantamweights on the Pacific coast, "Lefty" Shore of Vallejo and Ray Butler, known as the "Little Dempsey of the Navy," will headline the weekly boxing show at the auditorium arena Thursday night.

Two weeks ago this pair of bantamweights battled six sensational rounds with Shores winning a hair-line decision. Fans greeted the decision with mingled boos and cheers and outside the referee there are very few fans who really know who did win the fight. It is for this reason they have been re-matched for ten rounds this week.

There is little doubt in the minds of the fans as to just what kind of a fight to expect. There is little love lost between these two boys who have trained in the gymnasiums here for many months.

Supporting this bout are four preliminaries that will rival the main event for action.

BEAR NINE LOSES TWO

LOS ANGELES, March 19.—UP.—University of California was knocked from first place to third in the Pacific coast conference southern section baseball race today when it was defeated twice by the University of Southern California, 4 to 2 and 3 to 2.

The GREEN GODDESS
by LOUISE JORDAN MAIN

Copyright, 1922, by Frederick A. Stokes Company

"The Green Goddess," starring George Arliss, is a Warner Bros. Vitaphone production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS
A Himalayan fog and lack of petrol force Dr. Basil Traherne's airplane down in the hostile and inaccessible kingdom of Rukh. With Traherne are his friends, Major Anthony Crespin and his ex-gangster wife, Lucilla, with whom Traherne is in love. They are held prisoners in the Raja's palace and are to be sacrificed to the green goddess of Rukh on the day that the Raja's three half brothers are executed in India for a political murder. The Englishmen bribe the Raja's English valet, Watkins, to send a message for help. He sends a different message; they pay him and throw him out of the window down a cliff. The Raja sends a wireless appeal for help.

"No," Crespin replied cheerfully over his shoulder. "No! I don't expect any. It was scarcely worth listening in—I'm sure they haven't the power. But it's an even chance that I get them all the same. I'll repeat now—if I get the time." Once more their life-or-death call hurried out into the almost dark sea of a stupor over the mountain of Rukh, calling, "For our blood's sake, and the flag's come save us."

"Some one's coming up the passage!" Dr. Traherne whispered sharply. "Go on! Go on! I hold the door."

"Come and be damned!" Anthony Crespin said. And the subtle fingers went ravenly, carefully, very rapidly on a sharp word of command was given outside. Traherne exerted all his strength, but gradually the door gave way and three of Rukh's guards half tumbled into the room. The corridor was a Babel. Cried questions and guttural oaths, shrill exclamations, not commands, choked and choked. Rukh came in quick, by an inscrutable smile on his tan face, a murderous twinkle in his quickened eyes.

"Ah!" he exclaimed lightly "When the cat's away..."

CHAPTER XXXI

It well might have been the wedding day of heaven and earth, it was so lovely. Children laughed and women sang at their tasks, men smoked and waited about arm in arm.

All was ready—except the hour—and all the people of Rukh were radiant, expectant and happy. There was feasting and love-making, goodwill and fellowship.

At the full of the mid-day beat a great hush fell. All Rukh seemed to hold its breath as some great beast poised to spring.

Lucilla grew calmer and braver as the slow moments went, because this end was nearer. It was something of stimulant, and something of narcotic, too, that so soon it would be over—strain, fear, suspense gone forever.

Traherne felt turning to stone. He no longer was bound, but he scarcely moved. They brought too to him food and drink. He took what he could, and waited stonily—neither patient nor impatient. The long night had sapped his emotion. There was numb rather than tormented.

They had not met since he'd been plucked in the surgery, and dragged roughly from it. Neither had heard anything of the other. Each listened ceaselessly with straining ears to catch the first distant throb of a far-off aeroplane's engine.

None came.

The sun was sinking at last slowly, surely.

The Raja of Rukh strained hearing and nerves for the sound of English aeroplanes.

None came.

The sun sank lower.

Tom-toms crashed, drums echoed, pipes screeled, skin and reed implements sounded tunelessly.

The guard at the bolted door, a tiger-faced native, snatched back the giant, slipped back the giant's shunter and looked through it, then unbolted and swung open the door.

Two lusty soldiers carried in and set down a rude mountain chair. Two other soldiers guarded it. It, tipped on a propped-up strappled to it securely, sat the English doctor, Basil Traherne.

The Raja of Rukh appeared at the opposite door as the chair was borne in. His cloth-of-gold and rose and green satin robes, but shapely like a priest's bare, showed through the barbaric blaze of the jewels that encrusted them. The autocrat-priest gestured, and the soldier-bearers put down the chair and drew away to the courtyard's edge.

And victim and tyrant alike eyed each other silent and grim. Then Rukh smiled slightly. "Well, Doctor," he said in his slow, velvet voice, "it doesn't appear that any 'god from the machine' is going to interfere with our progress here."

"You are bringing a terrible vengeance upon yourself," the Englishman said sternly.

"Think, my dear Doctor," the Raja retorted lightly. "If, as the Major said, he did not get your S.O.S. through, I have nothing to fear. If he died, and did get it through, nothing can ultimately save me, and I may as well be hung for a sheep as for a lamb."

"You might have spared me this!" the Englishman said, writhing in spite of himself, in his bonds.

"A ritual detail, Doctor," Rukh said deprecatingly; "not quite without reason. Persons lacking in self-control might throw themselves to the ground, or otherwise disgrace the ceremony."

"I am not without self-control," the physician told him brightly. The Raja bowed, then gave a curt order, at which the bearers stood, as though, as Traherne strode, still a little cramped, from the chair, carried it away.

TRAVEL BUREAU FOR SCHOOLS FORMED

chairman of the Richmond Travel Bureau committee, which includes all those present at last night's meeting—Parr, Pluckney, Dr. Edgar E. Cunningham, Mayor Al Paulsen, V. O. Madison, dean of boys at the high school; Ralph Bergen, City Manager James A. McVittie; B. X. Tucker, principal of the high school; W. W. Scott, P. M. Sanford, president of the chamber of commerce; H. C. Uddenberg and Charles Engel of Parr's staff; E. M. Downer, J. P. Strom, and David Gray. The name of W. T. Helms, who was not present, was added to the committee.

Contact will be made at once with the principal ship owners of the bay region by a special committee headed by Bergen to obtain their consent to permit students to board ships and to arrange for transportation when trips are in order.

Plan To Grow

As soon as practicable the school department will work out a complete curriculum of foreign trade and the plan will be operative from year to year, growing in importance each term, it is believed.

The purposes of the movement are set forth in the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted:

"It is the sense of this meeting that foreign trade is essential to the prosperity of the United States in general and to Richmond in particular, and it is therefore

"Resolved, that steps be taken to introduce a course in foreign trade into the curriculum of the Richmond schools, and be it

"Further resolved: That the steamship companies be approached with the idea of receiving their cooperation in making such a foreign trade course successful."

Small Group To Start

A small group of boys and girls will be selected at the beginning, gradually increasing the size of the group as interest is maintained. It was said by Tucker. School buses will be used to transport the students to the harbor whenever a desirable opportunity presents itself for the study of ships and cargo, and a plan will be worked out whereby those who show the most aptitude for a study of foreign commerce may be given the chance to broaden their education by visiting foreign ports during the summer vacation period.

Pickney expressed the desire to cooperate wholeheartedly in all details of the plan.

S. F. FACTORY DESTROYED BY FIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 19.—(UP)

One industrial plant was destroyed and three others slightly damaged by a fire early today that injured one fireman before the flames were controlled by the united efforts of all downtown district apparatus.

The fire originated in a short circuit of an electric crane which ignited an oil container in the Truscon Iron and Steel corporation in the Mission district.

Flames shot high into the air, and three alarms were turned in by a watchman who discovered the blaze and who made futile attempts to quell the fire.

Fireman James O'Malley was treated at Mission Emergency hospital for cuts sustained when showered by splinters of glass from a broken window.

Three neighboring industrial plants were slightly damaged by the fire and water, but prompt and efficient action by water towers prevented spread of the blaze to other concerns in the block.

Heat from the burning building was so intense that firemen were unable to approach the structure for some time.

Damage was expected to run into more than $100,000.

Moose To Plan Old Time Dance

Final arrangements for an old time dance to be held in the Moose hall Saturday night will be made at a meeting of the Moose lodge tonight. Ed Ridley, dictator, will preside.

The dance is open to the public and is under the direction of a committee composed of Charles Donnelly, Art Squier and A. O. Bennett.

The music will be furnished by Bennett's orchestra.

Comedian Undergoes Serious Operation

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 19.—(UP)—George Searcy, who, until recently was the George Moran of "The Two Black Crows," stage and screen team, Moran and Mack, underwent an operation for an infected gall bladder at Angelus hospital today.

"The operation was a serious one, but I have every hope for his recovery," Dr. O. M. Justice, his physician said.

Twenty gall stones were removed, but Dr. Justice did not find it necessary to remove the gall bladder. The comedian's condition will remain critical for three or four days.

Searcy recently was replaced in the Moran and Mack team and subsequently had legal difficulties with Charles Mack, owner of the Black Crow idea.

EIGHT ARRESTED IN PROBE OF JULIAN COLLAPSE TRIAL

during his trial. Mrs. Caroline Love, juror charged with having agreed to accept a $10,000 bribe from Lewis, and J. H. Weaver, who allegedly was the go-between, for Lewis.

District Attorney Burton Fitts, charged in an affidavit, blue trousers and without a tie, was nearing his 24th hour of continuous work on the case tonight.

He charged that Krause had taken on Groves and Glider to the Herman home during the trial of the Bermans, Lewis and others and had given them liquor. He accused the Bermans of negotiating the sale of Glider's home and said that the jurors had admitted the charge in an affidavit.

Woman Accused

Mrs. Love was accused of having agreed to accept a $10,000 bribe from Lewis, but it was said that Weaver became intoxicated while allegedly carrying the money and spent $2900, returning the remainder to Lewis. The matter was called off, according to Fitts.

When Lewis learned that the Bermans already had "fixed" the jury, Fitts, weary and making abrupt announcements, said he had uncovered a huge "fixing" ring. He charged that Krause had admitted attempts to bribe the jury in the oil case and also in trials that resulted in the conviction of Asa Keyes, who was Fitts' predecessor as district attorney; Alexander Pantanes, millionaire showman sentenced for attacking 17-year old Eunice Pringle; Albert Marco, one-time Los Angeles underworld chief; and the case of A. I. Lasker and Martin Leach, accused of automobile loan frauds.

The Julian collapse came when the stock of the oil corporation was heavily over issued. Lewis was president and Jacob Berman was a financial advisor.

No one was ever convicted of wrecking the company. Many cases were dismissed and later former district attorney Asa Keyes was sent to prison for from one to 14 years, convicted of accepting bribes to allow defendants to go free.

Not only Keyes, but his chief deputy, Harold "Buddy" Davis, was convicted.

The defendants in the case were Lewis, the Bermans, and Ed Rosenberg, William Kottelman, H. F. Campbell, T. P. Conroy, L. L. Rouse, C. E. Reese, and R. M. Reese, brokers. At the conclusion of the trial, Superior Judge William Doran scored the prosecution for poor handling of the case. Later Keyes and Davis were convicted.

Fixing Told

The alleged "fixing" temporarily overshadowed the indictment of Morris Levine, newspaper reporter, and Miss Leonine Johnson, former secretary to Lewis, on charges of attempting to extort $300,000 from prominent men by threatening to publish stories concerning the Julian collapse.

However, it was known that the arrest of the two, after Levine was found carrying $75,000 in marked currency, had caused the present investigation.

Miss Johnson was questioned today and it was asserted that she had known of the alleged "fixing" while in Lewis' employ.

CECIL DE MILLE, PARTNERS FREED
LOS ANGELES, Mar. 19.—(UP)—Cecil B. De Mille, screen director, and seven co-defendants, were freed of charges of collecting illegal interest on loans to the Julian Petroleum corporation in 1927, when municipal judge James H. Pope ruled the city's prosecutor's office had delayed too long.

The eight assertedly loaned the corporation $62,000. The court ruled that they had been deprived of their constitutional right to a speedy trial, the complaints originally having been filed in July, 1927.

U. V. R. Holds Class Initiation

A large class of candidates was initiated at last night's meeting of the U. V. R. in the Memorial hall.

Among those taken into the unit were: Dr. A. B. Hinkley, Thomas Carlson, Ed Hoffman, Russell Meyers, H. D. Lane, E. A. Burg and A. A. Hughes.

L. Le Gette of San Francisco, and Junior vice department commander were present at the meeting and delivered an interesting talk.

A congressional medal of honor man E. L. Gibson of Oakland and A. Thompson, commander of Queen's Roosevelt unit of Oakland were also present.

Following the initiation, a banquet was served in the downstairs banquet hall by a committee headed by R. L. Benton.

BREAKING UP OF PAVING LOOMS

charging former Commissioner W. H. Parker with misconduct in office.

New Indictments

It is also expected that the jury will vote some 17 indictments against city officials and pavers.

At today's session of the county grand jury, employees of paving firms testified that many of them were induced to swear falsely that they had helped guarantee the bonds of their employers for large amounts. Some told of having sworn to holding bonds for tens of thousands of dollars when their bonds actually covered only a few hundred dollars.

Another event of the day was the swearing in of M. B. Driver as the new sheriff of Alameda county. Driver succeeds Burton F. Becker, who was ousted from office when he pleaded guilty to a charge of official misconduct lodged against him by the grand jury.

Colbourn To Move

It was indicated that Colbourn will soon transfer his activities to the department of health and safety.

Frank Leavitt, county grand jury foreman, suggested that Colbourn remain in the streets department until its affairs are put in order. Colbourn replied, however, that he felt there were matters in the health and safety department that needed his aid.

William Davie, son of the mayor, has been named treasurer to succeed City Treasurer Sophus Nelson, who resigned. Young Davie has been serving as assistant secretary of his father's "Clear Call."

Charles Warner, a clerk in the street department, was summoned before the grand jury this morning and testified that prior to Parker's becoming head of the street department, one per cent of all incoming money was listed as "incidental" and after Parker assumed control, two per cent was called under that heading.

Warner testified that on one occasion he asked Charles Frost, a department official, for the reason of this, and Frost replied that it "was orders."

According to Frank A. McGuire, in charge of the city's corporation yards, Commissioner Parker's automobile had collided with another car driven by V. W. Pachini, Bay Point banker. He was unable to pay a fine of $200 and was sent to the county jail for 200 days.

According to Sheriff Veale, of the six prisoners who escaped in 1927, two were recaptured, two killed and two escaped, one of whom is alleged to be Stanley.

Mrs. Bono Theft Hearing Today

Mrs. Vienna Bono will be tried before Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom today on a charge of petty theft.

Mrs. Bono was arrested following a confession by her son that he had stolen $200 from the home of J. C. Fiorini. She is charged with knowing of her son's theft without reporting the matter to the police, or attempting to return the money.

The defendant is represented by Attorney Will Robertson, and the case will be prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney R. L. Boyer.

Police To Study First Aid Work

Twenty-nine members of the Richmond police force, 10 Scout leaders and a number of industrial employees have already signed up for a men's course in first aid work which will fit them for lay instructors, following the planning of the course at the Red Cross headquarters recently. The course is sponsored by the Contra Costa Medical association with Dr. L. St. John Hely as chairman.

Instruction will begin as soon as a meeting night has been agreed upon.

PRISON BREAK SUSPECT HELD

MARTINEZ, March 19.—Sheriff

R. R. Veale announced today that Paul Stanley, alias James Cartwright, 22, who is being held in the county jail here under sentence of 200 days for reckless driving, has been identified by the state bureau of criminal identification as one of six prisoners who escaped from the Texas state penitentiary farm in 1927.

According to police records, Stanley was arrested after his automobile had collided with another car driven by V. W. Pachini, Bay Point banker. He was unable to pay a fine of $200 and was sent to the county jail for 200 days.

According to Sheriff Veale, of the six prisoners who escaped in 1927, two were recaptured, two killed and two escaped, one of whom is alleged to be Stanley.

SCOUTS READY FOR BADGE EXHIBIT

Richmond will shortly have the opportunity of witnessing the first jamboree and merit badge exhibit which will be presented at Roosevelt junior high school gymnasium on the afternoon and evening of April 12. Similar affairs have been held in Vallejo and Berkeley have proven highly successful in providing the public with a unique spectacle and an interesting display of Boy Scout accomplishments.

The public has at various times had occasion to witness the service which Boy Scouts render their community, but comparatively few people are aware of the vocational training afforded Scouts in developing their natural talents through the merit badge program. Subjects like aviation, carpentry, pottery, basketry, etc., comprise the merit badge program, 98 subjects in all.

The various troops of the city are busy now planning their exhibits. Representation at the exhibit has been requested by other troops in the county. The exhibit will portray 40 different subjects distributed among 30 booths decorated by the Scouts. All booths will be sponsored by local business houses and fire departments.

An attractive program is being arranged for the evening exhibit which will also be featured by a parade. This interesting exhibit and program will be offered to the people of Richmond gratis.

The committee in charge of this affair consists of J. B. Corrie, chairman; Frank Mero, Fritz Carfield, Dr. L. H. Fraser and Field Executive R. F. Cox.

ICE BOX BEAUTY CONTEST.....

THE greatest refrigerator manufacturers in the nation have held a beauty contest. Your ice company will show you the winners—iceboxes that are real masterpieces of modern household equipment—in gleaming white or pastel colored finishes making any model an adornment to your kitchen.

But that isn't all—they are "college graduates." Columbia University has approved the efficiency of their design, insulation and sanitary features. They provide amply low temperatures (less than 50°) and yet use but little ice.

SOLD BY YOUR ICE MAN AT HALF OLD-TIME PRICES... For $25 to $65 you can have one of these beautiful and efficient iceboxes in your kitchen. Your ice man will sell it to you on easy terms—and make you a generous allowance on your old icebox.

Why pay the equivalent of a twelve-year ice bill for a chemical refrigerator? Remember that ice is not only the cheapest but the best refrigeration. For only ice gives a constant circulation of clean, washed air that carries odors and impurities away and preserves the freshness and flavor of your food. See the new iceboxes today.
